This notice is intended to inform users of a correction made to CLSI document GP48, Essential Elements of a Phlebotomy Training Program, 1st ed. The clarification is described below and shown as highlighted and/or stricken text in the excerpt.

Subchapter 2.5.3. Device Selection, Inspection, and Assembly

The parenthetical statement in the first sentence is inaccurate. The text has been clarified to read, “Educators should demonstrate the proper selection of supplies based on patient variables, the collection method (ie, venous vs capillary ~~skin~~), the vein characteristics, and the test required.”
